

General Information for 'Relationships Matter'

Conference Objectives

- Discover the core issues in personalities and relationships
- Develop practical communication skills
- Learn conflict resolution processes and skills
- Understand the origins of depression
- Identify strategies to control anger
- Define and deepen genuine love
- Learn to forgive yourself and others

Design and Format

- This conference provides biblical and psychological insight for individuals in all stages of life.
- Every session is designed to help individuals and/or equip attendees to help others in various situations.
- The Sunday morning Bible classes for all teens and adults are key to the success of the conference. Please encourage attendance.
- Provision for childcare is helpful. Some congregations elect to also supervise 'study halls' for older children.
- Five to six free and confidential counseling sessions will be arranged on a 'first come, first serve' basis. Lynn will arrange these sessions.

Church and Community Preparation

- Pray for us and everyone who will attend.
- Personally urge all members to attend.* This encouragement seems most effective when provided by the eldership.
- Personally invite past visitors.*
- Urge members to personally invite neighbors and friends.*
- Use social media and web sites to advertise the conference and session summaries at least six to eight weeks in advance.
- Place brochures or flyers in public places.
- Show the promotional video and hand out the session summaries for at least two consecutive weeks before the conference begins.
- Print the conference schedule along with the outline of "The Servant Heart" in the bulletin the Sunday the conference begins.
- Make every effort to have a record attendance at the Bible class hour on Sunday morning.
- Have ushers in place at least 15 minutes before each session begins to welcome attendees and hand out outlines.
- Provide childcare for each session.

- Prepare a follow-up plan for visitors so they will be personally contacted within one week following the conference.

Equipment

- All the sessions except for the Sunday morning Bible classes are supported by Power Point.
- Two tables will be needed. One will serve as the media table in the foyer. All the sessions are co-taught except the Sunday morning Bible classes and Jerry's Sunday a.m. and p.m. sermons. For the joint presentations we will need another table on the platform with a floor length tablecloth and two chairs. Both of us will need a wireless microphone.

Personal Needs

- We will need a king (non-smoking) motel room with provisions in the motel for counseling sessions. We do not hold counseling sessions in our living quarters but often the motel 'breakfast area' is suitable.
- Although we love socializing as much as possible, our meals are not scheduled because of the counseling sessions.

We have found that advertisement is helpful but nothing takes the place of personal invitation.*

*Thank you for your assistance in these areas.
May God be glorified!*
